ASC Promotes Staff to Enhance Software Design and Customer Support Services

MIDDLEBURG HEIGHTS, Ohio, June 08, 2006 – Associated Software Consultants (ASC), a provider of loan automation software to the mortgage industry, announced the promotion of three employees: Walt Nimylowycz, Terry Long and Michael Gillespie.

Nimylowycz has been promoted to PowerLender database analyst after joining the company in 2000 as a technical support specialist. His duties include establishing, configuring and supporting databases for the PowerLender loan origination system (LOS).

Long is ASC's newest technology support specialist for the PowerLender team, promoted from a business analyst in the company's information technology department. Before moving to the Loan Origination Business Unit in November 2005, he was a senior representative for an international help desk for a large manufacturing company for six years. Long has also worked extensively with operating system support for various Microsoft platforms, several third-party applications and a global-user community.

Gillespie now fills the new position of director of database development after working as a database administrator for the technology department, specializing in databases used with ASC's PowerSeller secondary marketing and risk management system. He first joined the company as a customer support representative in 1999. Before moving to ASC he also served as a transfer-pricing analyst, trust administrator and a money market analyst for a large commercial bank.

"Walt, Terry and Michael are invaluable assets to our company and we are pleased to have them continue bringing extra value to ASC," said Tim Liston, president of ASC. "Their collective experience helps us grow and also maintain an increased service quality and profitability to our customers."
